

For The Caregiver

© 2005 Rod Hess

In the hustle and bustle of the world today,
“I’m too busy!” is what you hear most people say.
But, you always find time to help others in need,
no matter how difficult or busy your life may be.

You give of yourself in the Spirit of Love,
like an Angel from Heaven sent down from above.
For the deeds that you do you get little or no praise,
and the price for caring is long, tiring days.

So, when you need a lift when you’re feeling down,
and you look for help and there’s none to be found.
Here’s an Angel Guardian who will help your spirit to renew,
as you have done for others — she will do for you!

.....

While a Caregiver’s heart is in the right place, the responsibility of providing care for someone can be both physically and emotionally draining at times. When this happens, who provides care for the Caregiver? The My Angel Guardian Light of Inspiration/Pocket Card is a nice way to recognize these selfless individuals.

The light can be displayed in a prominent place within your organization. It would serve as a beacon to remind care givers of the importance of their mission and provide some words of encouragement to help them to persevere during those difficult days.

The My Angel Guardian Pocket Card enables care givers to take a copy of the poem with them for use when they need to re-charge their spirit. The cards can be customized with your organization’s name for marketing purposes and to promote your organization’s commitment to recognize those who give tirelessly of themselves to help others.

- Good for employees, volunteers, friends, and/or family members who provide care for loved ones.
- For use in nursing homes, hospitals, home health-care organizations, human service agencies and other organizations providing care giver services.

