

Priorities and Excuses

© 2015 Kristofer Hess

Life is a journey that you must walk each day,
and your priorities and excuses will determine your way.
One keeps you focused on the goals that you set,
while the other sows seeds for a life of regrets.

Motivation is the key to achieving in life,
you can have all that you want — if you just pay the price.
Hard work, dedication and consistency, too,
are three good friends that will help see you through.

So, when the excuses arise and the temptation begins, will you compromise your priorities and just give in?
Or, will you summon your three friends to help see you through?
Priorities and Excuses — the choice is on YOU!

.....

Napoleon Bonaparte said, “the reason most people fail instead of succeed in life, is because they give up what they want for what they want at the moment.” Too often, individuals succumb to the immediate gratification of the moment and jeopardize the long-term goals they wish to achieve. The Priorities and Excuses Light of Inspiration/Pocket Cards set can serve as a gentle reminder for them to stay focused on their goals and make better choices that will help them to maintain the focus on their priorities — to avoid having to make the excuses for unacceptable behaviors that deter them from success. The pocket cards can be customized with your organization’s name for marketing purposes.

 For use in high schools, college settings, athletic teams, job training centers, counseling, human service programs, career placement services, employee development programs, etc.

 For use in motivational programs.

